NEW CHARGES NEWSPAPERS

Denial is Definite By Party

Priest scoffs at tale he is prisoner of the rest of party.

"OWN FREE WILL"

Representatives of the Madrid Gov't are speakers in city.

An unequivocal denial was given yesterday afternoon by Rev. Father Luis Sarsola, Spanish priest, to the statement of Rev. Peter Duffy in New York on Monday night, that he is a virtual prisoner of the other members of the Spanish party now touring Canada and the United States in the interests of the Madrid Government. "It isn't true, absolutely," Father Sarsola said through an interpreter. "I am here of my own free will and at the request of the Spanish Government." He also denied a report that he is an apostate priest. Father Sarsola has lived in houses of study of the Franciscan order at the outbreak of the Spanish Rebellion was preparing a book on the Spanish Colonization in America, after spending thirteen years gathering materials. 25,000 photographs and other information to be included in the volume.

He has come here with my two colleagues, sent by the Government of Spain to explain the real situation in our country," Father Sarsola said, his message being interpreted by Senora Isabel de Palencia, the only member of the trio who spoke English. "The Government thinks the word of a citizen, who is a Catholic and knows his country, is of great moral value to dissipate the false news disseminated by the rebels. I am here following the dictates of my own conscience, in obedience to the legal government of Spain and because of my affection for my own country."

"I do not represent anybody but the Government," Father Sarsola continued, "and the majority of the people of Spain are behind the present Government, which is the Catholic Cabinet Minister. I declare with all sincerity I am proud of this spiritual embassy because I believe in this way I serve my religion and my country."

Senora de Palencia, a Spanish expatriate to Sweden, mother of a 26-year-old son who is a doctor at the University of Madrid, now staying at the Spanish Embassy in Washington, spoke at great length on the evening of the trip to the rebellion in Spain, declaring that it is not a religious war, but a struggle between democracy and autocracy under the name of Fascism. "The Spanish Government has the overwhelming support of the vast majority of Roman Catholic clergy in the country," said Senora de Palencia. "The Government of the rebels is a puppet government, and the churches to save their treasures from the plundered hands of paid assassins who were trying to loot the Government of Spain." She said the Government was merely giving aid to a means to the end of the rebellion, which she said was agreed that religious orders should be exempted from military service. "When the Republic was formed it brought a division of church and state, and the difference between any democratic country," Senora de Palencia said.

Reciprocity is Issue in the U.S. Election

Roosevelt for it and London opposed to Trade Treaty.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (CP)—The United States election on November 3 will be decided in large measure by the Canadian-American reciprocal trade agreement, which has increased commerce between the two countries, and probably the prospect of an early start on the St. Lawrence seaway.

As the campaign drew toward a close today, the major presidential candidates were on record on these questions as follows:

President Roosevelt: "Trade is not a one-way street. There can be no revival of foreign exports without a revival of foreign imports."

Governor Landon: "The reciprocal trade program sold the farmer down the river. We are a good neighbor without giving away the wick."

SURRENDER OR BOMBARDMENT OF MADRID

Seeks New Mark

Ultimatum will be sent to Madrid ere the attack is started.

CRISIS NEAR

Rebels are planning a triumphal entry into Spanish capital.

(Copyright, Hava News) ILLERSCAS, Spain, Oct. 27.—(CP-Hava).—With an array of tanks, planes and heavy artillery massed for his final offensive against Madrid, General Francisco Franco today was reported preparing an ultimatum demanding the capital's surrender within 48 hours.

The insurgent radio station at La Corunna said the ultimatum would be dropped on the capital by airplanes today. If leftist authorities refused to surrender, a Fascist general would order an immediate land and air bombardment of the capital.

Insurgent leaders said Franco would use his colonial forces in his final offensive against the capital as he feared his white troops might stage a massacre as a reprisal for the execution of thousands of Rightists by government firing squads.

MADRID, Oct. 28 (AP)—Thousands of homeless wanderers, stranded by the civil war, rounded Madrid today adding to the confusion of the city.

Mollison Hops Off

Hopes to fly from N.Y. to London, 17½ hours and make record.

NIGHT FLIGHT

PARBORO, N.S., Oct. 28.—(CP)—A monoplane believed to have been capt. James Mollison's, "Dorothy," was sighted over Apple River Lighthouse about 12:35 clock E.S.T. today, according to reports reaching here from this district 37 miles away.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Atired in a dinner jacket, Capt. James Mollison, the trans-Atlantic flyer, took off at 8:44 a.m. today in a one-stop flight to London by way of Harbor Grace, N.S., hoping to establish a mark for 17½ flying hours from Boyd Bennett Field to Croydon airfield.

"I do my best flying at night," explained the Englishman, 30, "don't you know, I have to be properly dressed."

He did don a flying suit over his dinner jacket as a concession to low temperatures, and the conventional vest of the man-about-town attired for formal evening had been replaced with a white sweater. He had slipped slacks over his trousers.

Mollison, intending to fly at 15,000 feet altitude, figured he could reach Harbor Grace with the initial load of 420 gallons of gasoline in 5½ hours. His plane, a speedy Bellanca monoplane powered with a 700 h.p. motor, has a cruising speed of about 250 miles an hour.

"It is a single cockpit with a sliding hood to convert it into a closed type, and is painted blue and orange."

Mollison will navigate, he said, only with a gyroscopic compass and an artificial horizon.

Cablegram F. M. Wife

The plane bears the wing marking—V to a neutral, and the tail the letter R to the rebellion in Spain, declaring that it is not a religious war, but a struggle between democracy and autocracy under the name of Fascism.

"The Spanish Government has the overwhelming support of the vast majority of Roman Catholic clergy in the country," said Senora de Palencia. "The Government of the rebels is a puppet government, and the churches to save their treasures from the plundered hands of paid assassins who were trying to loot the Government of Spain." Knew Millar Intimately

C. R. Morden says stork derby sponsor liked talking of money, not spending it

The reason for the Millar stork derby in Toronto, sponsored by the late Charles Vance Millar, will never be understood, said C. R. Morden, of Dundas Lane, this morning, when interviewed by the Review.

Mr. Morden was a close friend of Vance Millar before his death ten years ago, and stated that knowing him he did not understand why he should will his money as he did. "Mr. Millar was always anxious to do things," said Mr. Morden, "and he was always an advocate of educational institutions. As his friends, it is my opinion that he would have been pleased if the W. H. Price plan of giving his wealth to educational institutions had been followed out."

Mr. Morden said that on Sunday mornings Vance Millar and himself would have long talks on almost every subject. "He loved to talk about business, politics and anything else of interest, but he never talked about women or his wealth. He enjoyed conversations on subjects of general interest, and often connected with my Canada Cement property."

Mr. Morden declared that although the author of the stork derby was a man of great humor, he was a cynic and often admitted that he enjoyed making money but did not like spending it.

Alex. D. Robb Dies At Falls

Prominent power company official, long frontier figure, passes at 55

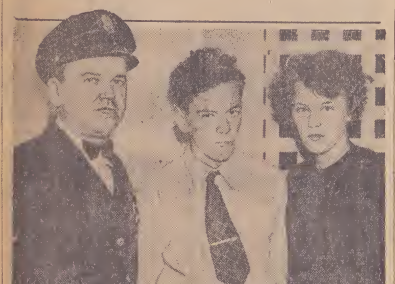

Prominent in power development on the Niagara frontier for many years, Alexander D. Robb, president of the Canadian Niagara Power Company, died in the Niagara Falls, N.Y., Memorial Hospital last night, aged fifty-eight years. Death followed an operation a week ago for appendicitis.

For a number of years Mr. Robb lived in this city but for the past twelve to fourteen years had lived either in Falls, N.Y., or Buffalo. His home is on Grand Island, Mr. Robb was the president of the Niagara and Ontario Power Corporation. He held several other executive positions in prominent concerns in the frontier district.

Hundreds of Mr. Robb's friends throughout the Niagara frontier were shocked by news of his death. Col. William Jelky, president of the B. N. and E. left Buffalo last night for New York unaware of Mr. Robb's death.

Youthful Bandits End In Jail

One bandit killed himself rather than be caught, and three others, still in their teens, one of them a girl, were jailed following a holdup in Memphis, Tenn. Those captured include: Priscilla Kirk, 14, of Beloit, Wis., and Dick Plannery, 15, of Cairo, Illinois, shown above. Jimmy Magid, 20, ex-convict, killed himself rather than be captured when the bandit car was wrecked in fleeing the scene of the hold-up.

Sweep Crystalizes Ambition LEAMINGTON MAN GETS $30,000

LEAMINGTON, Ont., Oct. 28.—(CP)—When Lauret romped home in third place over the tricky Cambridgeshire course in England today, it meant the realization of life-long ambition for Arthur B. Kirk of this town, 33 miles south of Windsor—he'll quit his milk-stand job and train and breed horses.

That left him $30,000 but he had agreed with Edson Scratch, a neighbor, who bought a ticket from the same book, that they would split it either way.

"Mr. Storch has been my best friend in tough times," Kirk said, "so he gets a one-third share. My wife and I keep the other two-thirds."

Ton Of Gale In British Isles, Europe Now 36

Fourteen perish when steamer hits reef near Oban Bay.

BAD IN GLASGOW

Shipping is paralyzed in North Sea; Big tanker helpless.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(CP-Hava).—The death-toll in the violent gale lashing the British Isles and Northern Europe during the past 48 hours mounted to 36 today.

Fourteen of the victims were believed to have perished when the 1,931-ton Latvian steamer Helena Faulbaum struck a reef near Oban Bay, the Island of Mull, west of Scotland, late yesterday. Five bodies of the crew were washed ashore.

Reports from Hamburg said 15 members of the crew of the German lightship Elbe had been lost.

Loyalist Troops Bewildered, Out-manoeuvred By Rebels

BY ELMER W. PETERSON With Colonel Ricardo Rada's Infantry Army, near El Escorial, Spain, Oct. 28 (AP)—Four thousand untrained Madrid militiamen fought valiantly but hopelessly today to repulse the Fascists' steady advance toward Madrid.

The Fascist out-maneuvred the Government troops at every turn. By dawn today they had virtually captured the last of Piqueros, near El Escorial, and the front of Madrid, almost without exposing a man.

While the Government troops struggled, often in apparent bewilderment of their foe's whereabouts, insurgents simply rode to the summits of hills dominating Piqueros and held it under cover of their machine guns.

Looking down to the valley, this correspondent could watch the columns of infantry and cavalry deployed through the woods.

He saw frequent skirmishes between the opposing forces—and after them, lines of fascists and wounded being brought back to the camp.

Seven miles through the woods on horseback over difficult mountain trails, the rebels brought him close to the fighting.

Munitions and supplies must be lugged up to the scattered front along the same tortuous, rocky paths. The wounded jounced painfully, their moans echoing through the forests, as they are carried back down the trail: in stretcher chairs and on hand stretchers.

At night they make a weird, ghost-like procession.

This is real, bitter warfare, and Colonel Rada, gray-haired specialist of mountain fighting, smiles and says he loves it.

Grandi Claims Russia Many Times Breaks Hands-Off Spain Pact

Twenty specific acts cited; Walkout by two is feared.

NEAR COLLAPSE

Portugal, Russia may withdraw from the London sessions.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Italy, denouncing Soviet Russia for 20 alleged new violations of the "hands-off-Spain" agreement, today demanded an investigation to establish the facts.

Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador to London, made the charges and demands to the Earl of Plymouth, German-embassy spokesman, as he went into session this afternoon.

Dates and details of the alleged Russian violations were included in the Grandi protest, and he called the Soviet be called upon for an immediate explanation.

Double Walkout Feared

A sub-committee of the international "hands-off-Spain" body met at the Foreign Office today, facing the possibility of a double walkout. The questions uppermost in the minds of the committee members, who arranged to hold a full session of the group this afternoon, was whether Russia, Portugal, or both, would quit the intervention neutrality agreement.

Portugal last night served notice on the committee she may withdraw any moment. She contended rules of the group had been violated by the British government when the British forwarded to the committee without investigation, Spanish and Soviet charges that Italy, Germany and Portugal had been faith by sending arms to the Spanish insurgents.

London also reported Russia to recognize the provisional insurgent government in Spain.

Russia, ready with new charges against the Fascist states, also was on record before the committee with what amounted to notice she would withdraw if she did not get her own way.

A double desertion, committee members said, undoubtedly would mean collapse of the non-intervention group.

The sub-committee had before it, among other things, a suggestion the meetings of the full group be opened to the public.

The non-intervention negotiations started out under a strict pledge the delegates would maintain the closest secrecy, confining disclosures of proceedings to formal communiques issued by the committee.

Grandson Arrested

Youth, freed of slaying grandfather, picked up on rare charge.

ENGLISH LAW

"Public mischief" laid as grandmother is released.

WALKERTON, Ont., Oct. 28.—(CP)—A "no bill" was returned at this afternoon in the murder case of Mr. Wesley Stroh, charged with the axe-slaying of her husband in 1934. It was expected the 86-year-old woman would be released from custody.

WALKERTON, Ont., Oct. 28.—(CP)—Earl Leffler, 19-year-old grandson of the slain Philip Stroh, was arrested in Bruce county courthouse today on instructions of Mr. Justice J. C. Makins. He was charged with creating a "public mischief."

The dramatic arrest of the youth, acquitted two years ago of his grand father's murder, took place while a jury was considering whether or not to return a true bill for the murder against Mrs. Mary Stroh, widow of the Philip.

Leffler, then 17 years ago, was acquitted in the same courtroom in November, 1934, and six months ago Provincial Police arrested Mrs. Stroh and charged her with the murder.

The new charge against Leffler, said Justice J. C. Makins, was that he had aided and abetted his grandmother in the slaying of his grandfather. The charge was laid as a result of Leffler's alleged statement to police more than six months ago that Mrs. Stroh killed her husband with an axe.

"Public mischief" in this case, said the prosecuting attorney, was defined as causing officers of the law to incur expense, and in this case, maintained at public expense for public benefit to devote their time and services to the investigation of the case.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Borlon, M.D.

MINAL NEURALGIA TIC DOLOREUX

One of the earliest surgical operations it was my privilege (or severe duty) to watch was for the relief of that terrible pain in the side of the face and head called trigeminal neuralgia (tic doloreux). The pain over the whole side of the face is so terrible that at least time surgery was the cure in the severe cases. To-day while surgery is still used in the very severe or major cases of this neuralgia other methods are fortunately available which give relief to many cases.

Dr. Joseph C. Yaskin, University of Pennsylvania, in compiling records of cases helped by other than surgical methods says, "Dr. O. Dyes, Germany, treated 20 cases of true trigeminal neuralgia with the use of the deep X-ray. In only 3 cases was there no favorable result. In 11 cases, in 12 the results may be termed lasting; in 5 incomplete. In 7 patients a single radiation or a series extending over several days was sufficient to lessen the attacks. In 9 patients, who had neuralgia long-er, lasting improvement was obtained only by repeating the series of treatments after intervals of a few weeks or months. The method is worth while and should be tried before undergoing surgery."

In the Journal of Medicine Dr. J. A. Caldwell reports that what is known as the Moyer or Castor Oil treatment has benefited some cases of trigeminal neuralgia. The method is as follows: 1 or more ounces of castor oil is administered 3 times a day for several days in succession until the pain is relieved or the treatment is judged to have failed.

Dr. Caldwell states that he has had some remarkable cases where the pain stopped after this treatment. In one severe case where all three branches of the nerve were giving pain (patient about to undergo operation) the castor oil treatment stopped the pain in 4 days and it did not return for 4 years. When the castor oil was tried again it failed to help and an alcohol injection into the nerve was necessary to stop the pain.

Some patients are not helped." Dr. Caldwell does not continue a trial of the castor oil treatment beyond 1 week. He reports that other cases do not have the same effect as the castor oil.

The point then is that while surgery may be the "last resort" in trigeminal neuralgia, the deep X-ray, and the castor oil methods of treatment are very much worth trying.

Hallowe'en Sees Fitful Spectres In Stork Finish

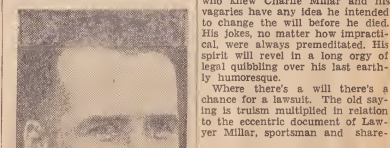

Shades of whimsical Toronto lawyer called to revel in legal tangles of humoresque.

TORONTO, Oct. 28. — (CP) — Charles Vance Miller had no choice in timing his departure of this life for Dec. 31, 1936, but he there start-up to end around Hallowe'en's ed a 10-year child-bearing mara-celebrations next Saturday night with prospects of a more bewitching finish than the most fanciful Druid of primitive Hallowe'en ever dreamed of.

There seems little doubt the hob-goblins and the imps of disputed title to the bachelor lawyer's $500,000 baby sweepstakes (plus probably $75,000 earned increment) will haunt the interested families long after the finish of the race. Mrs. Martin Kenny, claiming to be the mother of 12 during the 10 years, gives expression to optimism more than the other eight serious entrants.

But even Mrs. Kenny, 34, French-Canadian and with an infectious laugh, looks for an argument about it. "I'm the winner and I'm not going to split with anybody; some of those women want me to." She reads cards and they tell her she is sure to take the big prize Oct. 31. There's Mrs. Joseph Baginato, 44, with nine children in the running and another expected in good time for the gong. As a court interpreter she saw lawyers every day and naturally feels well up on her case. In her opinion only eight of Mrs. Kenny's children qualify. The other four, she says, were not registered under the Vital Statistics Act, as definitely demanded in the Miller will.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Razin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food cannot digest. It just decays in the bowels. One knows his stomach is not getting enough bile when he goes into the body and, you feel sour, sick and the whole system is out of balance. A mere bowel movement does not always get the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills and get the bile flowing freely and making your food digest. It makes the bile flow freely. They do the work of the liver and make the bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! It stubbornly refuse anything else. 50c

Look for Surprises

Three other mothers with 10 babies each, two with nine and two with eight, complete the pack coming up the homestretch. But they are not saying much. Two of these "dark horses" up till a few weeks ago and there are folk who predict this Hallowe'en will bring forth another ghost or two in the maternal form of Toronto mothers with more qualified offspring than any of those now listed. Post entries are perfectly regular in this race.

Many motives have been ascribed to the bachelor lawyer in leaving the residue of his million-dollar estate to the Toronto mother having the greatest number of children, born within 10 years of his death and registered under the Vital Statistics Act. "He was an indefatigable poseur," he wanted to be talked about," said one writer. "He has had his macabre wish; he has made the most famous of Canadian will of modern times, a legal document that may be unique."

But some have suggested another motive. He was a lawyer who loved litigation, they say. He had a vision of great battles in the courts to interpret his will. "Uncommon and capacious" he said himself as he saw the nation's judiciary and men "learned in the law" trying to read his whimsical mind as expressed in the last testament. Nobody who knew Charlie Miller and his vagaries have any idea he intended to change the will before he died. His jokes, no matter how impractical, were seldom pronounced. His spirit will revel in a long orgy of legal quibbling over his last earthly choreography.

Where there's a will there's a chance for a lawsuit. The old saying is truth multiplied in relation to the eccentric document of Lawyer Miller, sportsman and share-

In 1932 the Ontario government made a serious attempt to exorcise the residue of the Miller estate—the part of it bequeathed to the city's most outstanding demonstrator of anti-race-mixing. A bill that would have turned the half-million over to "the King" to will, the public treasury of Ontario, was actually before the Legislature.

The measure couldn't pass and the government, eventually withdrawn it. Never was there such a representative public cry for a sporting chance for a sporting quest. Clergymen and business men of all classes joined with race track presidents in the chorus against "confiscation" and so on. "Let the race go on and give the stork a fair show" won the day.

Government spokesmen warned at the time "costly litigation must inevitably ensue." That was nearly five years ago.

Months before the finish of the race it was announced some of the contestants had consulted their solicitors.

Single Channel Tuning SHARP AS A RAZOR-EDGE

TODAY'S crowded air waves present no difficulties to a Westinghouse Air-Pilot Radio . . . for with it you can tune in the station you want regardless of the power or proximity of stations on adjoining wavelengths. Think of it! . . . Two stations separated by but a hair's breadth on the dial yet you can turn from one to the other and it's like doing a sound-proof door between them. Thus you can enjoy every program you listen to without interference, without distortion . . . without the annoying background of overlapping stations.

If razor-edge selectivity were the only advancement offered by Westinghouse World Cruisers they would sell by the sensation of the year. But in addition there are many other Blue Ribbon features that make Westinghouse more than ever the radio buy! Ask us for a demonstration!

Twenty models to choose from. With a Westinghouse your only limitation is the station itself.

STRAP AND LIGHT SENTENCE
BETTER THAN REFORMATORY

The sentence imposed on a nineteen year old youth by Magistrate J. B. Hopkins here yesterday seems a sensible one. Given his choice of ten strokes of the strap and three months in Welland jail or two years in the reformatory, the accused chose the former. There will be a general hope that remembrance of the strap and the three months of meditation will bring the youth to his senses.

IF MILLAR WANTED NUMBERS WHY NOT LEAVE IT TO RABBITS?

Undoubtedly the provincial government would like to do something definite about the will of the late Charles Vance Millar, who left half a million dollars to the Toronto mother who had most children in the ten year period following his death. The result has been, as many agree with Premier Hepburn, "the most revolting, disgusting exhibition ever put on in a civilized country."

Yet it is a ticklish thing to break a man's will, if that man is known to have been of sound mind when it was drawn up. Whether a confirmed practical joker, as was the late Mr. Millar, is absolutely sane, is another question. Complications have arisen because some of the births in the past decade cannot be certified and probably some sort of governmental supervision of the whole affair may be necessary to prevent the dissipation of the whole half million dollars in legal fees. If Mr. Millar was so fond of numbers, why didn't he leave his money for the propagation of rabbits?

VOTING MUCH MORE COMPLEX
IN THE UNITED STATES

Voting in Canada is a relatively simple affair. There are candidates in all constituencies, representing the various parties. When the votes are counted, it is found that certain men have been elected. If the Liberals, as a result, have the most members (as at present) then the Liberal leader becomes premier and head of the government. It is otherwise in the United States.

On Tuesday next electors all over the United States will go to the polls and mark their ballots for "electors" or candidates for the electoral college, there being as many "electors" as congressmen from each state. Thus New York State has forty-seven electors while several states, such as Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico and Wyoming have only three apiece. The electoral college consists of 431 citizens. After the election, these electors meet, in their own state capitals, there to cast their votes then to send the certificates to Washington, where they are counted in the presence of the Senate and House of Representatives.

If no candidate has secured a clear majority, the choice of a president and vice-president devolves on the House of Representatives, which has performed that function twice in United States history. Actually, of course, the result will be known as soon as the votes are counted. There is a movement on foot to have citizens vote directly for president and vice-president and that may come, when each voter would vote for Roosevelt, Landon or any of the others.

NOT LIKELY IS IT THAT MAX
WILL BE INVITED AGAIN

Sports writers in New York city are critical of Premier Hepburn for his remarks about Max Baer after a recent boxing fiasco in Toronto. The New Yorkers want to know what right a "foreigner" like Hepburn has to call Max Baer ever again will have a chance to be called a bum after a fight in a Toronto ring, for it is not likely he ever again will have a chance to enter the squared ring in the Queen City. Certainly all who saw the fight agree with the premier in calling it a fake.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING SEEN TO BE INCREASING

Newspaper advertising is generally accepted as a barometer of business conditions and it is interesting to note that Printers' Ink records an increase for the first nine months of this year of 94 per cent over 1935 and a gain in September of this year of 15.1 per cent. That also shows that advertisers are continuing to regard the newspaper as the best advertising means, which is the result of experience.

THE DIATRIBE MIGHT HAVE BEEN WRITTEN YESTERDAY

"The Lord is displeased with the disobedience of females whose thoughts are on vanities and on personal adornment. We have come to a time when all men must turn from light and frivolous conduct and think of higher things. Males are being compelled by them in authority to dress and behave in a seemly manner, but women are perverse. They flaunt garish ribbons and bedeck their persons immodestly, thinking, in their minds, that they thereby increase their allurements. The church will do well to issue a stern edict against such ungodliness."

That was written nearly a thousand years ago by one Novatian, an Armenian monk, but it has quite a tang of modernity about it, the language being almost the same as that being used today and with precisely as little effect—the darts.

DEFINITE CHALLENGE ISSUED TO PREMIER ABERHART

Premier Aberhart, talking of licensing newspapers, a proposal by the way which has been rejected by his followers, is fond of talking of misrepresentation and lies by the press of Alberta. Some people may have believed such statements, but it is interesting to note that he continues to refuse to prove or to specify such charges. Mr. H. T. Halliwell, president of the Alberta Provincial division of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, has made public the following letter addressed to the premier, which, so far, has not been acknowledged, which may be regarded as a fair statement of the case:

"On October 10, a copy of a resolution was forwarded to you from the annual convention of Alberta division of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association, using the word 'misrepresentation' which you accused of telling lies in connection with your policies."

"So far no acknowledgment has been received of this resolution. But instead you continue your misrepresentations over the radio against all newspapers, when the way is open to you to effect a remedy without inflaming public opinion in an unjustifiable manner against newspaper publishers, who on the whole are keenly interested in good government as all other citizens."

"An opportunity presented itself for you to meet the publishers when they recently met in Calgary, both by invitation fully a month ahead of their meeting, and again during the convention, when you were staying in the Palliser Hotel on October 9-10. That this opportunity was not taken advantage of certainly is not the fault of the publishers."

"Your attacks on the press as a whole are grossly inconsistent with the facts, for the great majority of weekly newspapers have given fair and accurate news reports of all Social Credit activities, have maintained the dignity of the office of Premier and have extended the same courtesies to your party as to other political parties. They maintain they have the right to express their editorial opinions just as freely as your opinions are expressed over the radio, and the newspaper columns of all newspapers have been open to those who wish to write letters to the press, both Social Crediters and those opposed to your theories."

"I trust you will either refrain from your continued misrepresentation of the press or take definite action against those newspapers which you claim are telling lies."

If Mr. Aberhart has been misrepresented or lies told about his campaign or about himself, why doesn't he cite specific cases, or, as Mr. Halliwell suggests, take action against the offending newspapers? A definite challenge has been issued to the Alberta premier and he ought to answer—if he can.

MORE BARRIERS REMOVED FROM INTERNATIONAL TRADE

Canadians will applaud the new Canadian German trade treaty, if it does what is predicted of it, and brings about a more favorable balance of trade between the two countries. Under present arrangements Canada buys two dollars worth from Germany for every dollar's worth we sell to the Reich, which, of course, is not an ideal exchange.

The effect of the new arrangements is to make available the foreign exchanges accumulated here, so that, in theory, Canada will take a dollar's worth of German goods in exchange for a dollar's worth of Canadian products. The agreement is supposed to last for a year but can be denounced if it is found not to work as expected. There can be nothing but praise for any arrangement that removes barriers from international trade.

REVIEWSISMS

WHAT it means to have an estimated thousand hunters shooting pheasants on Pelee Island may be imagined from the fact that the area of the island, the southernmost in Canada, is less than two-thirds of the land area of Toronto, the Toronto Star observes.

THERE is an utter contrast between the present day spirit in Germany and in Canada. The other day the eightieth anniversary of Holy Blossom Synagogue, Toronto, was celebrated by Christians and Jews worshipping together. Such a gathering would have caused a riot in some Fascist countries.

Never Certain

(Kitchener Record)
Lord Marley, deputy speaker of the House of Lords and widely-known British statesman, made an interesting observation during a recent newspaper interview.

"A Fascist dictator," he averred, "is not likely to start a war because he never knows how much of the people he has with him. Since he does not permit any opposition, he does not know how big that opposition really is. He has no index."

Lord Marley's observation contains a good deal of truth. It is just another reminder that public feeling can be gauged much better under a democratic form of government.

WORLD NEAR CRISIS

All thoughtful men are convinced that the world is nearing a crisis.

Sir W. E. Gladstone says the sign is his book, "The Impregnable Rock of History."

Sir Philip Gibbs says unless a man is drunk with optimism he must see the world is very sick and near death.

The East with its hundreds of millions is awakening to what nations are uttering defiance to Almighty God.

Ludendorff says: "I am not merely an opponent of Christ, but literally an anti-Christian."

Karl Marx said: "We make war against all prevailing religions of the state, of the country, of patriotism. The idea of God is the enemy of a perfected civilization and must be destroyed."

The forces of evil are chameleons. Like Europe and Christianity are threatened today by their internal dissensions.

Every country and more so the English-speaking lands, are threatened by such dissensions. They are more concerned with their petty grievances than with the trouble brewing in the world.

In 1912 M. Pierre Loti compared Europe to a wild beast. Prime Minister Baldwin warns us against the many forces of evil. General Smuts likens the English-speaking people to one asleep on the edge of a precipice.

We have put out in the heavens the lights which will never be lit again. Some nations deny God some defy Him, others ignore Him.

Any ordinary furnace burns Hamco Coke without any special equipment.

Last winter, thousands switched to this modern, dustless fuel—so light on the shovel, so simple to regulate, so easy on the budget.

You, too, will find that you can keep your entire house warmer at all hours if you change to Hamco Coke. You will like the way it keeps the house free from smoke and soot—and the small amount of ashes.

Remember—coke will heat your home at a lower cost than other hard fuel.

SHOWS COKE ECONOMICAL

Because one article is lower priced than another it is not necessarily of poorer quality.

The best illustration of this is in the fuel field. Carefully made coke, such as Hamco Coke, is considerably lower in price than other hard fuels.

But thousands of householders after years of experience, would buy Hamco Coke even if it cost more. They get better heating results, with less trouble, fewer ashes and no soot or smoke.

The economy of coke has long been accepted by popular opinion. It has been demonstrated in innumerable home furnaces—and increasing sales show how the good news is spreading from one householder to another.

The makers of Hamco Coke say: "Buy Hamco Coke, not as a substitute, nor as a way of saving money. Buy it because it is an all-Canadian fuel which will give you greater heating satisfaction. Incidentally, you save many dollars on your winter's supply of fuel if you choose Hamco Coke."

vicinity of the shipyards on the

Niagara River Parkway and turned over to Roy Munn, Welland coun-

the bird to the Royal Ontario Museum of Zoology in Toronto where it will be mounted and exhibited.

The bird is jet black with no trace-of red on its head and the hunter who shot it down thought it was a bald-headed eagle. These birds, which are not birds of prey, and have no talons, feed on refuse and are seldom seen in this part of the country. Mr. Munn noticed a pair of the birds along the river front last weekend. This may be the reason of them. Its wings had a spread of five feet and eleven inches.

GREATER INTEREST BEING KEPT FOR FORT ERIE MUNICIPAL POLITICS

A. Current Is To Seek Reelection

Broadley may oppose; expect Atwood to enter contest.

FORT ERIE, Oct. 28.—(Special)—With several candidates definitely in the race for the mayoralty, interest in Fort Erie in the approaching nominations has now turned to the re-election of A. Current, incumbent, said definitely today he will be a candidate for re-election. He is expected to be opposed by George F. Broadley, and possibly also by a newcomer to municipal politics, Constance Seabach. It is expected the veteran John H. Atwood will be a candidate for re-election as deputy-reve, but up to the present time no candidate has come out in opposition.

There is much more interest being taken in municipal elections this year.

It is also learned there may be a new candidate for the Board of Education, Archibald Chisholm, manager of the Arner Chemical plant here. Mr. Chisholm, however has reached no decision as yet.

383 PUPILS TO BE INOCULATED

FORT ERIE, Oct. 28.—(Special)—Fort Erie Board of Education has authorized Dr. Charles W. Street to commence inoculating with diptheria toxoid 383 public school children. Treatment will start in the immediate future, and it is expected will be completed by Christmas. The board has decided to take

RECOVER Stolen Gun

Ring taken from home also recovered.

FORT COLBORNE, Oct. 28.—Chief Constable Fred Davies yesterday recovered the .25-calibre revolver and a turquoise ring stolen Monday from the home of Mrs. E. North Scott, public school teacher. He arrested a 15-year-old juvenile charged with the theft. The youngster was placed on suspended sentence and probation a week ago on a charge of breaking and entering a Port Colborne store and stealing $9.

Another juvenile, at whose home the gun was found, will appear with the boy, charged with receiving stolen property. They had gone shooting with the revolver and a package of cartridges stolen at the same time.

RIDGEWAY, Oct. 28.—(Special)—Howard, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ruegg, who lost most of his right hand excepting the thumb in a grinder in his father's meat market, has learned to write with his left hand and is getting quite handy putting on his clothing. He wrote his name about a week after the accident happened.

Mrs. Jacob Schler picked a pint of raspberries from her patch of overbearing variety on Monday evening. There are many green ones on the bushes.

This step as a preventive measure. In all cases consent of the parents or guardians is being obtained.

Funds Lacking To Carry Out H.S. Changes

Board objects to council's rink plan; Trustee Coulthurst congratulated

FORT ERIE, Oct. 28.—(Special)—Fort Erie Board of Education will take no action in connection with the report made several months ago by an inspector of the Department of Public Works at Toronto, recommending certain changes at the high school.

In response to a question brought up by Trustee Thomas Lynn at the regular meeting of that body at Whiteville High School, Chairman George F. Asles stated the entire matter has been turned over to the high school committee. George B. Honey, chairman of that body, stated the board does not have the funds to carry out the changes and that no action has been taken for the purpose and nothing is contained in it that is necessary to do so.

The board also does not take kindly to a suggestion of the town council that a rink be built on the grounds of the Phipps street school grounds for municipally-supervised skating this winter. The majority of the board felt damage to the lawns would be too great, and that the town of Port Erie can provide town property, better suited to the purpose without causing damage to lawns. After much discussion it was decided that permission be granted for the use of Phipps grounds only, as there is a rink on that site. A leave of absence has been granted Miss Bertha G. Cliff of the high school staff, who presented a doctors' certificate saying she should rest until the first of the year in order to regain her health. High school accounts totalling $2,935 and public school accounts of $4,473 were approved by the finance committee.

Lions Sponsor Fete To Curb Ruinous Frank

Fort Erie service organization to hold great parade Halloween

FORT ERIE, Oct. 28.—(Special)—Fort Erie Lions have decided to take a unique method in preventing the untidy habits of many of the juveniles in Fort Erie on Halloween, many of which pass at times the bounds of innocent mischief.

As a result George Gregory is chairman of a committee which is arranging a monster parade here on Saturday evening. There will be eight prizes given, and four divisions in the parade. The first will be for comic costumes, the second historical; third fancy dress and best costume for bicycle riders. The parade will form simultaneously at both ends of the town and meeting in the centre, probably ending on Jarvis Street, where after a parade, prizes will be awarded.

and ordered paid. On resolution of Trustees Dr. Phillips and George B. Honey, the secretary, George Tait, was instructed to write a letter to Trustee Albert Coulthurst, who has left Fort Erie to take up his residence in Niagara Falls, on the occasion of his 52nd birthday next Wednesday.

Millar Is Called "Scrooge", Jilted In Early Romance

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—(CP)—Charles Vance Millar, eccentric millionaire who started Toronto's fantastic stock derby with his death 10 years ago was a "scrooge beyond power of redemption," the Globe said in a copyright story today.

"Study of his history, conversation, two sides to his character," the paper said. "One is the shrewd lawyer with capacity for making money in business investment; a devotee of horse racing and boxing; a rich man with a penchant for practical jokes.

"But overshadowing this is the picture of a man jilted in love, embittered by such fate," the Globe said. He fell in love with a young girl but she turned him down, and jilted once, he never loved again. He was a "hard-boiled guy" who observed human emotions but gave them no value. "But if he owed money, 'He'd go a thousand miles to pay you,' an acquaintance was quoted as saying."

Shop Sales For Prairies Higher

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—(CP)—People on the Prairies had more money to spend last year than in either of the two previous years, a survey by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics published today shows retail sales in the three prairie provinces mounted to almost $386,000,000 in 1935. This was six per cent higher than in 1934 and 16 per cent above 1932.

The percentage increase was about the same all here is how the three provinces compared, with 1934 figures in brackets: Manitoba $187,533,000 ($180,847,000), Saskatchewan $119,137,000 ($111,637,000), Alberta $128,292,000 ($120,412,000). The index for 1935 on the basis of 1930 equals 100 stood at 69.4.

There were six tables of players at the meeting of the Men's Euchre Club Tuesday. Prizes were won by Messrs H. Murdoch, O. Hamill and A. H. Cropp.

SMEDLEY BUTLER SEES STATES "SUCKED INTO" EUROPEAN WAR

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Oct. 28.—If citizens of the United States don't mind being in the attitude that none of the country's naval or military forces are to be sent farther than 500 miles from the coast lines, the nation is "likely to get sucked in" if a war breaks out in Europe, Smedley D. Butler, former major general of the marine corps, levelled this warning last night at a large Navy Day audience assembled in the Niagara Gorge Auditorium.

"Let's show that we are going to tend to our own business," he pleaded, adding in the next breath: "Be sure the crowd you send to Washington, don't intend to mislead your navy."

Find Farmer Gun Victim Mother and brother of Crowland farmer sure death was an accident

WELLAND, Oct. 28.—The body of Wilbur Wesley Pearson, 37-year-old Crowland Township farmer, was found by his wife in a room of their farmhouse near here last night with a gaping shotgun wound through the chest.

Coroner Dr. W. K. Colbeck, who investigated, announced no inquest would be held. Mrs. Pearson reported she had been in an upper room of the home when she heard a shot. She came downstairs to find her husband lying on a couch dead.

Mrs. T. W. Pearson, mother of the young farmer, and W. L. Pearson, a brother, were certain death was the result of an accident.

The gathering will be the largest under Tory auspices held here in a number of years.

Bravery Of Shop Keeper Frightens Off Holdup Man

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—(CP)—Spirit of opposition of Joseph Compton, 45-year-old owner of a stationery store, proved too much for a would-be holdup man last night.

Walking into the store, the thug demanded the cash register be opened. When the elderly storekeeper wanted to know what for, the thief shoved one hand into his overcoat pocket, as though he had a gun, and snarled a warning to Compton that if he did not do as he was told, he would be killed.

"If you do you will hang for it," retorted Compton, turning to call to a friend in a back room. At this, the would-be robber turned and fled.

Cost of Low-heel Shoes Protested

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—(CP)—Addressing the Salvation Army Congress last night, Dr. Edna Guest, Chief Surgeon of the Toronto Women's College Hospital, asked why women's high-heeled shoes should be less expensive than common-sense, low-heeled shoes.

"When I protest against girls and women of the poorer homes wearing high-heeled shoes, they reply that they can't afford to buy anything but a high-heeled shoe," she said. "What can we do about this matter of shoes? Surely a feasible heel can be made as cheaply as a high heel."

Lost Line Hooks Fish

Redwood City, Calif.—(CP)—Stephen Reinhart, dropped his pole and line overboard at the start of a bass fishing contest. Undismayed, he trotted for it and finally dragged it to the shore. Wriggling on the hook was a four-pounder which won the prize.

SAFEGUARDS ON HYDRO TOWERS ARE CRITICIZED

Better danger signs urged by jury in death at port.

FORT COLBORNE, Oct. 28.—That the steel Hydro towers were inadequately safeguarded, that the line should have been de-energized immediately after the alarm bell sounded, and that better danger signs should be applied, was the verdict returned yesterday by a Coroner's jury, under Coroner Dr. G. N. Black, investigating the death on Oct. 19 of Ralph Fusco.

The 13-year-old Port Colborne youth climbed a newly constructed steel tower line carrying 12,000 volts and died of shock and burns he received.

Chief Constable Fred Davies showed a Hydro danger sign, removed from the tower on David Street, up which the youth climbed to his death. The sign was somewhat battered. In answer to a question of Crown Attorney H. W. Macomb, K.C., Chief Davies agreed that the letters did not contrast with the background of the sign, and that the signs on the two adjacent poles were in worse condition.

Letters Defaced

The letters were defaced and generally obliterated, the Chief Constable said. The coroner, John Morris, Hydro foreman in

RATTLING OVER BROADWAY

Synopsis of preceding chapters: Janette Keats, 17, operator in the Green Acres, Kansas, telephone exchange, lives with her older sister Patience, secretary to Hilary Totten, and, the town's wealthiest man. But for Patience their parents would have lost their sun-baked ranch a few miles out. Hilary Totten, back from college, asks Jan, Green Acres' prettiest girl and best dancer, to elope with him. He says they'll hop that night in his plane to Kansas City, marry, and then fly on to New York. She is thrilled and though she has misgivings finally agrees. While Patience is trying to convince Jan she should wait and have a regular wedding, the evening paper arrives with an announcement by Jan's parents of her engagement to Hilary. Jan's young friends rush to her home with congratulations. A late arrival is blonde Jan's best friend, Miss Mary, who, to express surprise off for New York, bound for Paris. Mr. Totten tells Patience his wife suspected Jan of phoning the announcement to the paper of offering about $50,000 and a year in Paris to forget Jan. Patience and Totten believe it. Patience he must discharge her to appease his wife. Patience decides not to tell Jan she's lost her job but Jan soon learns that both of them are jobless. Totten owns the telephone company, too. To save Jan from the small town gossip, Patience suddenly decides to go to New York, she seeks an office job, Jan to dance on the stage, she secures the Jennings for their cottage to the Keats' farm.

CHAPTER 10

Jan rushed into the bathroom to get into her new costume. When she appeared and walked around the room with her boy stride Stella applauded.

"If there's anybody suspects you're not a boy it won't be because you don't look the part. You're perfect."

Patience came in, wiping floor from her hands. She stopped short, and surprise flitted across her flushed face.

"Well, say," she admitted finally, "I've got to hand it to you, Jan. You look exactly like a boy. It's up to you now, Jan. If you can't stand your step, you may put it over, after all."

The two girls scarcely touched their tumblers, and then Stella seemed almost too excited to eat.

Mayfair Needle-art

Design No. 150

Today's hostess may create an atmosphere of informal charm and individuality at her table. This dainty tea cloth, with the casual arrangement of flower sprays, is embroidered in satin stitch, running simple and french knots. The pattern contains: a generous supply of the thread used in working the original model, a transfer for the designs, a color chart, a diagram of the various stitches and their position in the design, and complete working instructions.

"It is. And that's why we've got to work fast. That's the director." He pointed to a young man in shirt sleeves in the center of all the uproar. Gary Gray, He's white, that guy. "He's" Shell nodded, grinning. "He's the smartest director in the business. He had three hits last year. Every producer in town is after him."

"Terribly handsome," Jan mused. "He looks awfully serious."

"He is," Shell nodded, grinning. "All the gals are crazy about him, and he treats them like so many stage props. No gal will ever get anywhere with him being sweetish to hold her job. The snootier they are, the better he likes them. If they try to get chummy he runs like a rabbit."

"Anything but," Shell called to his defense. "He's a young man with world of charm, and really quite human when you know him. I dated the masculine touch and a nice long many face. I think he ought to be a movie actor. He's the best looking thing I seen since I left Kansas."

"Again I thank you," Shell bowed. "Look me over some day and see if you can see any possibilities."

WHAT IS SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE IS SAUCE FOR THE CHICKEN

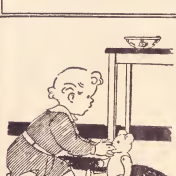

DID you ever stop to think why H.P. Sauce is so valuable in the preparation and serving of foods?

First of all it blends so perfectly with other foods. Second, it brings out hidden flavors. Third, it dissolves perfectly in a stew or soup and imparts an even flavor throughout. Fourth, it mixes perfectly in a sauce or salad. Fifth, it spreads smoothly in a sandwich. Sixth, it stimulates appetite and makes the meal more enjoyable.

Household Lydia Le Baron Walker

The Apple of Fate is a New Game for Halloween Entertainments.

"Dear Mrs. Walker: I am giving a party on Halloween, and want some new game. I've read lots of your parties, and so I am going to ask you to help me out. The boys and girls are about 10 to 15 years old. We are tired of playing the old tricks and games every year. Won't you give me something new and good, as I want to have my party a real success? Yours truly, Molly L."

Dear Molly: Thank you for thinking I can help you make a success of your party, and also for getting your request to me in time to reply in the paper. There may be others who would like some new ideas and although I am giving you a game especially for you and your crowd, I think we might let others play it, too. The game requires no preparation that cannot be made in a very short time.

Materials Required

The only things needed for this game are an apple and a mirror. The larger this is the better the players will like it. Some writing paper will be needed also and a shallow bowl or other container. The hostess writes words of advice on the paper, cuts off each sentence or phrase and folds it so that the words are not visible. These slips she puts into the bowl on a table by the place where the girl stands when playing.

The Apple of Fate

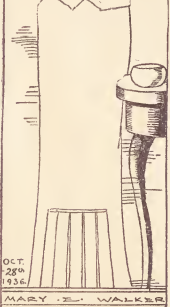

The object of the game is to decide the fate of the players. To do this the men form into a circle and the girls stand in the center of it with the apple in her right hand, and the mirror in her left. At a signal from the hostess the men begin to circle around the girl until the signal comes to stop. At the same time the girl, follows the signals and keeps turning around in the opposite direction, halting instantly on the stop signal.

Look Before Throwing Apple

Holding the apple in her right hand, she focuses its reflection on the man behind her; and throws the apple over her shoulder at him. If to man catches the apple, their matrimonial fates are supposed to be sealed. However, it is permissible for any man to catch the apple who can do so without stepping out of line. Whoever catches the apple is the fortune man.

The Fates Decide

If any man during the game catches the apple more than once, the fates portend that he will be married the number of times he catches it. Also the decree of Fate is that the man who does not catch the apple is the fortune man. The same decree holds good in the case of a girl. Should her apple fall to be caught she must remain a bachelor maid.

Before throwing the apple she took careful aim with the aid of the reflection in the mirror.

The Fates Advise

The words on the slips of paper are either of consolation or advice. For instance—"Don't try to catch the man, let him try to catch you; I'm better success learn to play him ball." "It's better not to be married than to marry the wrong man." "Be happy, better luck than money." Each girl whose apple is not caught, picks one of these slips from the bowl, and finds out supposedly how to succeed another time.

Our Children By Angelo Patri

INDIVIDUALITY

"For mercy's sake, Edith, make that child stop that awful noise."

"O no, I wouldn't do that. He will soon stop of his own accord. He will soon get tired. I don't want to suppress his individuality. That is what is wrong with so many people. They never had a chance to express themselves fully and the poor things are suffering from all sorts of difficulties."

So Malcolm went on stamping about the room and pounding the floor with a stout, walking stick. Mother had read some good books on education, and attended classes and conferences and discussed at length the freedom of the child. This was the freedom of the child in full swing.

When it came time for Malcolm to enter school neither visited many. "I went in to see the first grade in the public school, just once by, but could never meet Malcolm there. The teacher gave commands like a drill sergeant. 'Class stand,' and up they came like so many Jack-in-the-boxes. They stood, marched, faced about—all to command—and smiled as if they thought it a good game. Poor little things, I felt so sorry for them. When I told the teacher she just laughed at me and said, 'This is where we teach them to obey orders, to move together, to feel themselves as a class working together. They like it. It is the right time for this teaching.'"

"But not for my Malcolm."

So mother visited private schools. "I never thought private schools were so rigid. They're just as bad as the public schools, really! The children have to wait for the teacher's word every time. They can't do as they like. I mean, suppose Malcolm wanted to sit by himself and sing, the way he does here at home, and the teacher wanted the class to listen to a story. Well, he ter the last few months.

"Suppose I had let him and some after my divorce?"

"Would that have inspired him to do better?"

"No! He'd have been a thousand times worse."

"We wives take a chance and we are very bad partners when we run away because our job has become difficult."

"If I can save my husband, the father of my children, from failure or from destruction, I'll be repaid many times over for the heartaches I've known."

"Wife and Mother."

Answer: You are doing a real woman's job, and the hate of all women who can't take the same with the sweet should be to go to you. You have managed to grasp the merit that is so precious to all of us, but which so few of us can catch in this hurried era.

PATIENCE:

You are a patient woman and you have a deep understanding of the marriage bond.

Others Seek Escape

While less understanding, less patient women are out looking for a new deal, you are working on the deal which is yours and which has every element of success, with the exception of the weak copilot. I must admit that you have an advantage over many wives in a like situation who write to me about their marital embroglios.

YOU LOVE YOUR HUSBAND.

Mostly, under pressure, love does. The victims of an unhappy love are not looking for a mending way. They seek escape.

I hope your husband awakens to his good fortune in having a real partner who will work for him as well as with him, and my sincere best wishes for the reestablishment of the happy home you deserve.

Although this column is devoted to a public discussion of the various problems of men and women there are letters received which require personal answers. Such letters addressed to Jane Dixon must be accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope.

BILLY HERBERT BOASTS IMPRESSIVE RECORD ON CANADIAN TRACKS

Trotters and pacers from his London stable have won many of the season's races, and created some fine marks.

BOYD AN ASSOCIATE

By BILL GAYNON
Billy Herbert, owner of Niagara Falls and a big figure in trotting and pacing circles, has just completed another successful season, with many of his thoroughbred takers taking down prizes at the leading events in this branch of the turf pastime. William is now a successful hotel owner in London, but his heavy business duties have not kept him away from the sport that has long been his passion and to which it will be recalled that Billy developed Dominion Grattan, for many years the outstanding pacer in Canada and at the present time a big winner in many sulky classes across the line. William sold this charger for a record price to Paul Power, and at the time of the sale, the outstanding record was equal in two years' time.

Whether he can realize this boast is hard to say, but there can be no denying that his present collection bears plenty of promise, and it may develop that the owner can take away for Dominion Grattan will forget the great horse when some of the present Herbert winners take to the track next summer.

Seven Good Ones

Since Bill turned his gang loose last spring, it has been one success after another until the present time finds the Herbert stable boasting between 70 and 75 victories for their summer's efforts. This is indeed remarkable in view of the fact that the owner has entered all outstanding races, and the opposition has never been anything but tough. Tom Grattan, a 4-year-old by Oscar Grattan established a 2.50 mark at Welland and old horses consider the steed among the greatest ever to grace a Dominion track. Billy's high on the list is by Peter G. and the fact that it established a 2.06 1/2 mark over a mile track, is sufficient to justify the Herbert confidence.

Kathleen Grattan, a 3-year-old mare by Grattan Bros with a mark of 2:11 1/2 over a half mile track, is another leading figure in the Herbert household. The filly, by Miss Teit, has won 12 races this season, establishing marks of 2:10 and 2:08.

Grattan by Grattan. Direct as a record of 2:11 1/2. This mare has never been out of the money. In addition to the above smart ones, William is grooming three other young ones to take care of future campaigns.

One of Dominion Grattan's appear in the form of Busy Grattan, a 2-year-old by Grattan Direct, and the dam is Mrs. Conchita Grattan. His Royal Majesty, a 1-year-old by Texas Grattan, is the dam in Mrs. Conchita's dam and is showing plenty to warrant great expectations. There is also a green three-year-old, a full brother to Tom Grattan, which is being broken and trained, and will be named later.

Quite an array of classy performers.

Injuries To Keen Many Out Of Next Games

All eastern football squads affected through mishaps to regulars, but capable sides are set for berths

BENNETT BACK

(By The Canadian Press)
Injuries, taking their usual toll from Eastern Canada's senior rugby football squads this season, spread through the league today, leaving several teams minus key men as the crucial season-end games approach.

Such men as little Art West, Argos' running backfielder, Russ McConnell, ace of the McGill University gridmen, "Chuck" Peck, and Syd Jackson, Turney Williams and Ralph Ripley, all of Toronto Varsity, are on the sidelines with various hurts.

They were among footballers who remained out of practice last night as coaches brought up their die of heavy work for the week-end duelling—a diet which will be kept on the menu for the rest of the week.

West's loss to Argos provided a serious blow to the team's inter-provincial listening hole. Infection of the arm indicated the backfielder would be out of the line-up when Argos clash with Johnny Ferraro's Montreal Indians Saturday.

Reeve Has Troubles

It was the same with most other Big Four clubs and Intercollegiate Union outfits. Hamilton Tigers were out of the line for the week-end, as was the case with the Ontario team. West's loss to Argos provided a serious blow to the team's inter-provincial listening hole. Infection of the arm indicated the backfielder would be out of the line-up when Argos clash with Johnny Ferraro's Montreal Indians Saturday.

Johnny Bennett, Tribal half-back, is the first to return to action since suffering concussion against Ottawa two weeks ago.

McConnell's loss served to inspire the all-important Toronto game, and Ronnie Porvane was drafted to fill McConnell's place. Meanwhile, Warren Stevens' Toronto Blues, whipped through new formations without a loss.

Burly Harry Sunshine, spearhead of Queen's secondary defence, returned to the line for his first practice in two weeks. It was probable he would be back for Saturday's troubles.

St. Catharines Collegiate Ties Stamford For Leadership By Win From Falls C.I. Gridders

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 28—St. Catharines Collegiate senior Tri-colours topped into a tie with Stamford High School at the top of group 3 of the Niagara District C.O.S.S.A. rugby series here yesterday, when they handed Niagara Falls C. I. Redshirts a 4-11 football trouncing.

As the Saints and Stamford tossed for the victory, the sudden death tilt that decides the group title, the coin fell to this city, and out of Friday's encounter emerges the winner of the group that will meet the winner of group 4, Port Colborne High School, next week.

Keeping up their previous high scoring spree against the Falls Redshirts, the Saints, who had the latter absorbed a 50-5 defeat at home, the Saints shot to the front in the final minutes of play when Morton intercepted a forward foolishly attempted on the Falls' forty, and raced straight through for the conversion try.

The Saints' victory was a blow to the Falls' hopes, as a player that put Collegiate ahead for a converted try at 11 to 0. No score marked the second in the series, as the period Falls and Morton scored touchdowns, with Biggar replying for the Falls and the Saints, turning an enemy forward, for his third try, and snatched a missed placement up behind the line for his fourth at 31 to 11 at three-quarter time.

Betts-Pair forward resulted in the seventh St. Catharines touchdown, and a duplicate, Betts-Morton, at 31 to 11, with the former booting a single for the closing tally. Niagara Falls completed one of the series in St. Catharines' three in five.

Niagara Falls C.I.—Flying wing, Walter; halves, Bonland, Dunigan and Roby; quarter, Kaminsky; snap, Gay; inside, Bogardis and Bennett; outside, Price and McLeod; Eager, Savel, Nelson and Brock.

St. Catharines—Flying wing, Brock; halves, Betts, Pair and Stevens; quarter, Morton; snap, Burleigh; inside, Davis and Dowling; middle, Miller and Phillips; outside, Leask and Shook; Scob, Alois.

McGill Redmen to tougher work for the all-important Toronto game, and Ronnie Porvane was drafted to fill McConnell's place. Meanwhile, Warren Stevens' Toronto Blues, whipped through new formations without a loss.

Burly Harry Sunshine, spearhead of Queen's secondary defence, returned to the line for his first practice in two weeks. It was probable he would be back for Saturday's troubles.

ST. MARY'S OVERTAKED

By EDDIE BRIEFZ

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—(AP)—After last year's game with Minnesota, Lynn Waldorf, northwestern coach, said "I never see that Tufty Thompson again. It will be soon enough." . . . Just for that Bernie Bieman intends to turn Tufty loose.

How about Babe Herman for manager at Brooklyn? . . . The Reds are getting ready to let him go. . . . If down the river—they don't care which, just so they send him somewhere. . . . Scouts say another Red who is being let go is Bill and Horace Disagree.

Most burned up young man of the week was Slim Madigan, who he found out Fordham had promised the Giants 25 per cent of the money for use of the polo grounds. . . . The Dodgers have signed a Russian infielder named Plagenko. . . . But he'll give the pros a hard time.

Best looking young heavyweight right now is Gunner Barlund, the Finn. . . . New York writers who swallowed the St. Mary's bellyhook, line and sinker, now claim slip Madigan put over a test one. . . . One paper says the Giants were just as overrated as they were overrated. . . . The Pirates are willing to listen to bids of Woody Jensen.

HOLDS HIGH HOPES

By ORLO ROBERTSON

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Oct. 28—(AP)—They say good football players make good coaches, and Silvio Couci, who ought to know, adds it takes good horses to make a top-flight jockey.

A year ago the name of Couci opposite a horse on an American turf program was enough to send the odds tumbling. Today the 29-year-old Bronx Italian, his eyes a little sad, is just another jockey trying to regain the form of once cheers ringing in his ears and money in his pocket.

Despite the fact the record books say he has ridden only 40 winners out of 430 mounts this year compared with 141 last year and over 200 in 1934, Couci believes he's made as good a job of it as any other horse to regain his lost popularity.

"I'm not planning a come-back," declared the Italian emphatically today. "There's no need. All I need is some horses that can run."

He left Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree Stable, the outfit with which he made his debut in 1931, because he believed the stable's horses, none too prominent this year, made him look bad.

He hopes to sign a contract with E. R. Bradley's stables next year.

Test Balsamo In N.Y. Bout

NEW YORK, Oct. 28—(AP)—Harry Balsamo, a battling young fighter who has had only 20 fights and has ended most of them so quickly he's been in action only a little more than 50 rounds and a somewhat more experienced scrappier, Babe Risko, come together in the Hippodrome tonight in a 10-round bout that may prove a lot of things in the middleweight division.

For one thing it may show the former subway brawler, who recently has become a disc sensation, must already be considered as leading challenger for Freddie Steele's high seat.

It may prove the former champion, Risko, is too tough a customer for Steele, who has never experienced New York to tackle.

A paralyzing puncher who wades in and moves him down, Balsamo has won 16 of his 20 professional fights by knockout. The most consistent victory has been the quick knockout of Eric Seals, German star, two weeks ago which earned him tonight's bout with Risko.

If Proper Offer Is Made Says Rick

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28—(AP)—There isn't any ball player so good he wouldn't be lured by a big offer, says Eddie Rick, manager of the Cardinals. "It would be a matter of the offer," he said.

That does not mean, Rickie continued, the Cardinals have put the eccentric right-hander on the trading block. It means "if some offer is made, I will consider it."

Grads To Sponsor Intermediate Club

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 28—Adjudged an important move in the development of the city's youth, St. Catharines Grads have decided on an intermediate team, continuing their long affiliation with the city's youth.

The same time, Entry will be made to a district intermediate group that is expected to include Merritt, Thorold, Niagara Falls and Port Colborne.

The parent organizations will finance and direct the intermediate team, and there is a probability that it will be included in the city's contests on game programs here.

The seniors anticipate grouping with other clubs, Niagara Falls, Port Colborne, Hamilton and Leander Royals of Hamilton and Port Colborne and Broadview of Toronto, winning team from that group will represent Central Ontario in provincial senior playdowns.

The SPORT DESK

(By BILL GAYNON, Sports Editor)

A TRULY COLORFUL character passes from the hockey picture with the announcement from Roto Roto that he will not report to the Bruins this season. The veteran pivot man has been around the International League for number of years, and his steady, effective work has had a great deal to do with taking the Nighthorn along the route to titles and playoff berths.

While never of the flashy type, nor one to dazzle the spectators with a burst of speed, the New Hamburg citizen has been a great team player, and his smart playmaking and effectiveness near the nets, has stamped him among the best of the players ever to perform in John Chick's team. Roto never reached the National Hockey League, but he stood head and shoulders over many that did make the top row, and major scouts overlooked a good bet in not snaring him during his earlier days with Buffalo.

Frank Nighor will have some problem filling the Roto shoes, and every city where Roto showed in recent years, will miss his smart displays when Niagara's new pro team starts away on another campaign.

ON THEIR SHOWINGS

For the past two weeks, both Ottawa Redbirds and Eastern have become dangerous contenders for the honors in the Big Four and Intercollegiate races, and both forces will bear plenty of watching in remaining games. The capital entry has taken a new lease on life since the interprovincial governors barred Rossi and O'Neill, the two U.S. imports, and has performed better than when the barred players were in action.

Western, not having available candidates that Varsity, Queens and McGill boast of, has been forced to turn to the local scene, and figure the probable school championship, but the smaller institution is very much a threat now, and is causing the three larger squads no small amount of worry. With Balmy Beach cutting up coppers in O.R.F.U. warfare, all races are wide open, and nobody can foretell the eventual finish.

Eastern football would benefit greatly if the three mentioned clubs could outdistance all opposition and come down in front in their groups.

WE HEAR from very reliable sources that the Niagara District badminton league will expand in big fashion the coming year. All the clubs of a year ago are returning, and the three senior clubs at Welland, St. Catharines and Niagara Falls intend placing entries, which will not contain the fifteen leading players under the big roofs. Grace Church, St. Catharines, is also considering, and there is a possibility of St. Andrews of this city entering B circles.

Another point being seriously considered is the playing of singles in all matches and along the frontcourt. When action is figure the clubs at Welland, St. Catharines and Niagara Falls intend placing entries, which will not contain the fifteen leading players under the big roofs. Grace Church, St. Catharines, is also considering, and there is a possibility of St. Andrews of this city entering B circles.

Both Jack Adams and Clem Loughlin took in considerable territory in lauding the work of star members of their teams, but a great many close hockey fans are going to string along with both parties in their recent declarations. Adams called his first line of Barry, Lewis and Aurie, the best in hockey, and Loughlin termed Earl Seibert, the peer of all defence players.

With the Cook-Boucher-Cook line broken up and the Conscher-Jackson-Primeau trio, no longer existent, there does not seem to be any front division to challenge the supremacy of the Red Wing dandies, and it is not improbable that the Adams boys may go on to greater heights than that formerly enjoyed by both the Ranger and Laid combinations.

In putting Eric Siebert in top territory, the Black Hawk leader went out of his way to claim such notable Eddie Shore, Babe Schuch and Eddie Goodfellow held lower ratings than his star. This is indeed a mountainous claim, but the Kitchener Earl certainly warrants a lofty spot when star defenders are being discussed.

WITH THE STAMFORD half mile race, the rest is up to the Harriers, and in all probability, the city club will fall in line and meet the township boys at an early confab in order to have all difficulties ironed out and prepare to stage the event at an early date.

Added interest would be given the event if some generous party would come forward and offer a trophy for yearly competition in this classic, but regardless of this fact, the followers of running in both places want the race to take place, and no time can be lost in completing all details.

The competing teams have trained throughout the summer and fall months, each can go into action on quick notice. Therefore the decks should be cleared immediately, and things arranged to get the athletes busy within the next three weeks.

IT WAS SMART WORK on the part of International League club owners in electing Frank Shaughnessy to the presidential duties at the special meeting of the organization in New York yesterday. Shaughnessy has spent a number of years in baseball, and has had actual experience in both the playing and executive end. He demonstrated his managerial ability by piloting teams to championships at Ottawa, in the Canadian League, and later turning the trick with Montreal Royals.

He also spent time as coach at Detroit and his tuition fitted many young stars for long careers in big time. Likewise, his business ability was never questioned and the class A.A. should credit Shaughnessy under his able guidance. Personally, we were hoping Tom Manley, long time secretary of the circuit, would land the big job, but since the voters saw fit to sidetrack him, Shaughnessy is a capable choice.

The league also benefits through Manley's decision to remain as secretary, and the Irish duo should keep the loop in prosperous condition, and boom the game in the different cities comprising the minor group.

Sir Abe Bailey's capable steed sets pace for field of twenty-two in Cambridgeshire stakes

DAYTONA SECOND

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 28.—(CP).—Sir Abe Bailey's capable steed, the established favorite, today won the Cambridgeshire Stakes, with Daytona second and Laureat third. Twenty-two horses ran over the distance of one mile and one furlong. It was the 85th renewal of the famous autumn handicap.

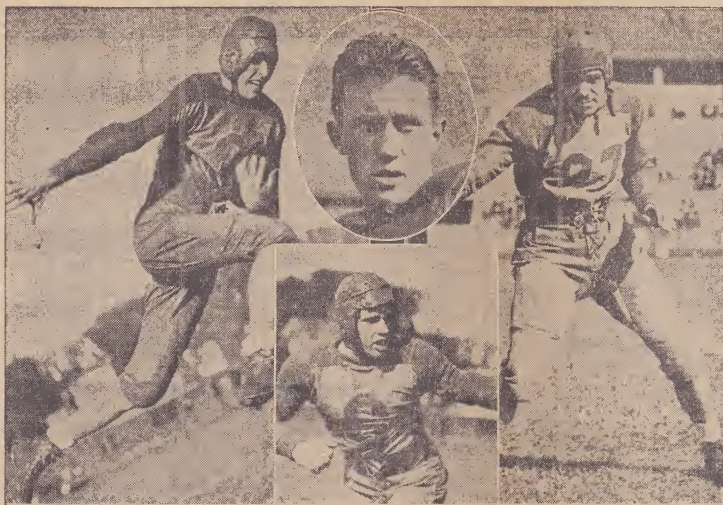

Daytona is owned by Sir George Bullock and Laureat, second by M. H. Benson. Dan Bulger started at odds of 7 to 1. Daytona was held at 33 to 1 and Laureat second at 100 to 6. Dan Bulger, ridden by Weston, won by two lengths. Daytona finished a short head in front of Laureat second. The winner was handicapped at 111 pounds. Daytona carried 117 pounds and Laureat second 98 pounds.

Dan Bulger is a brown three-year-old colt by Bulger—the Ra's Wife.

Balmy Beach, Un-Tied and U'deafated So Far In O.R.F.U.

Four of the stalwarts who have made the Balmy Beach team such an aggressive aggregation this season: at the left, Herbie Moores, one of the outstanding stars and an exceptionally fast runner. This is his second year with the Beach. He is very tricky and has a good pair of hands; inset oval—Eddie Powers, Jr., quarterback, who succeeded Ab Box and is playing his second season in that position. He is generally acclaimed as a wonderful rugby player; inset square—Ed "Smiley" Smith, speedy substitute half-back. This is his first year in senior football; right, Harold "Dig" Davis, who, although this is his first year in senior company, is already acclaimed as the find of the season despite injuries which have kept him on the sidelines more than once.

Sir Newton Moore Dies In England

MONTREAL, Oct. 28.—(CP).—Word of the death in England of Sir Newton Moore, former President of Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, was received today at the company's office here. Sir Newton resigned last Sept. 10 as president of the corporation, which controls huge plants and mines in Nova Scotia, because of ill-health. He had been associated with the company since 1920 when he became member of the London Advisory Committee of the Corporation. Twelve years later he was appointed president, succeeding Charles B. McNaught in February, 1932.

TAKES NEW JOB, HE IS ONLY 93

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(CP).—Ninety-three year old General Sir Bindon Blood, the "Father of the British Army" has been appointed to a new office—Chief Royal Engineer of the Corps of Royal Engineers. This restores to the Royal Engineers an old military appointment, originally styled "Chief Engineer of the Kingdom," which existed from the Restoration down to its abolition in 1802.

There is no pay attached to the position.

Destitute Woman Fighting To Regain Her Children

Jersey woman lost babies when court branded her Communist and atheist; Decision to come soon

TRENTON, N.J., Oct. 28.—(AP).—In the Court of Errors and Appeals to dismiss her appeal. Decision on the motion is expected soon. Mrs. Mabel Eaton, describing herself as destitute and broken in health, pressed her fight nevertheless to regain custody of her two children, taken from her by a court decree which branded her a convert to communism and "atheist" and unfit to rear them. "My babies mean more to me than anything else in the world and unless I get them back I shall have nothing to live for," she said in opposing her husband's motion.

Edith Collins, with power to deal with them as they may think best. Out of his estate of an estimated value of $141,000, he left Miss Collins $10,000. The will states the secretary is to have the sole custody of all my papers, letters and MSS, and I request her to use them as may be most advantageous for the benefit of my wife during her life and after my wife's death for her own benefit, but with full power to suppress or destroy any of them."
